B.C., Alaska May "Solo" On Joint Power Scheme

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—British Columbia-Yukon conference, Lands and Forest Minister Ray Williston of B.C. said forest and water reserves have been established on the remote Iskut Valley of the Alaska Panhandle. A private company has proposed a dam that could supply power for two major mineral developments. Both would involve international agreements. However, state and provincial officials proposed that responsibility for the international aspects of the scheme be taken out of the hands of the U.S. and Canadian Federal governments.

Martin Takes On Big Fellows Blasting Nuclear Nationalism

OTTAWA (AP)—External Affairs Minister Martin Tuesday night criticized creation of national nuclear forces and of a multilateral seaboard nuclear strike force as a means of achieving greater sharing in the military direction of the North Atlantic alliance. He thus selected some pretty big targets for criticism: Britain and France have or are building relatively small national nuclear forces and the United States and West Germany are pushing formation of an eight-nation NATO seaboard nuclear force.

Increase In Number Of Saints Urged Before Vatican Council

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican ecumenical council heard an appeal today to create more Roman Catholic saints from all walks and races of life. There also were warnings against exaggerated devotion to the Virgin Mary. Leo Jozef Cardinal Suenens of Brussels told the 2,500 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica that national bishop groups should have power to beatify in their own regions, instead of leaving this to the Vatican. Beatification is a step toward canonization as a saint.

Anybody's Guess Right Now On Who Will Win U.K. Election

LONDON (CP)—Britain embarked on 30 days of tough and bitter electioneering Tuesday after Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home ended his guesting-game and named Oct. 15 as the poll date. Dissolution of Parliament will take place Sept. 25 by royal proclamation. The new Parliament—Britain's 43rd—will be summoned Oct. 27 and will open Nov. 3. As the campaign begins, it's anybody's guess which leader will be summoned to Buckingham Palace Oct. 16 and asked to form a government. Both the prime minister and Labor Leader Harold Wilson appeared confident and eager on separate television interviews after the announcement. Sir Alec repeated his theme

NORAD Value "Diminished"

OTTAWA (CP)—One of Canada's top defence policy planners said today the importance of North American air defence, co which the United States and Canada have spent about $50,000,000 since 1945, has diminished.

R. J. Sutherland, chief of operational research for the Defence Research Board and a special adviser to Defence Minister Healy, said in a speech to the Atlantic Treaty Association here.

"The planning of the present North American air defence system took place for the most part, more than 10 years ago."

"During the intervening period there have been important changes in military technology and in political circumstances. The ballistic missile has relieved the problems of the extreme vulnerability of the strategic deterrent forces."

"It is fair to point out, however, that the ballistic missile has not entirely replaced the manned bomber as a strategic delivery system."

"The Soviet Union retains a significant bomber force. The manned bomber continues to possess certain advantages and this would be even more true if there were no defence."

"But it is beyond question that within the total spectrum of Western military programs, the importance of North American air defence has diminished."

Cross-Blame In Sea Attack

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Fidel Castro's government and Cuban exiles are blaming each other for the machine-gunning of the Spanish freighter Sierra Aranzazu.

Three crew members were killed and seven were injured when two unidentified speedboats attacked the 1,600-ton ship Sunday night and set it afire off the eastern tip of Cuba.

A survivor said the boats swooped in moments after a speedboat approached the ship, turned a spotlight on its name, and then fired away.

Havana radio said "there is reason to believe" that "pirates" financed by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency made the attack.

Two Cuban exile leaders—Manuel Artime and Manolo Ray—denied their men were involved. Friends of Artime in Panama said his organization believes the raid was carried out by Castro agents to discredit the exile group.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said: "Whatever the nationality of the attackers, we cannot but deplore this attack on a merchant vessel on the high seas."

The 17 survivors from the Sierra Aranzazu were flown to San Juan Tuesday.

He said the four dams could produce 579,000 kilowatts of power at a cost of between two and three mills per kilowatt hour at site.

The power could supply the needs of the Alaskan communities of Wrangell and Petersburg, the Grandeur Copper Mine near Stewart, B.C., scheduled for production in 1966—and the Kennecott copper find on the Stikine which has tens of millions of tons of ore.

The minister suggested an 80-mile railroad linking Wrangell to the damsite would be the most economic way of aiding development of an integrated pulp and lumber operation proposed for the Stikine and Iskut valleys.

Last Coup Leader Surrenders To End Crisis In Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP)—Brig. Gen. Lam Van Phat, the former interior minister, who organized the unsuccessful coup in South Viet Nam last Sunday, surrendered to government authorities in Saigon, tonight, bringing an end to the crisis for the time being.

Saigon radio warned today that if he did not surrender to Saigon authorities, the government "would not be responsible for his safety."

Phat heard the broadcast in My Tho and came to Saigon. Also expected to surrender soon is another officer on the wanted list, an ex-chief of suburban Gia Dinh province, Col. Nhan Minh Trang.

Phat was the fifth coup leader to surrender to the government and to be placed under arrest.

The ratification ceremony synchronized with one in New York where a representative of a group of United States power utilities turned over to A. B. Hickin, assistant deputy finance minister, a cheque for $255,929.534.

This money is the American payment for a 30-year entitlement to downstream benefits from dams to be built on by the British Columbia government the Columbia River in Canada.

The Canadian equivalent of this sum, approximately $274,000,000, will be turned over later today to B.C. Premier Bennett by Prime Minister Pearson. A cheque will be deposited to the credit of the B.C. government in a Vancouver branch of the Bank of Montreal.

The Ottawa ceremony was attended by some members of the Commons external affairs committee and several senators. They and other guests were able to hear the entire telephone conversation between Ottawa and New York.

After Mr. Martin and Mr. Butterworth had signed each ratification document they informed

Mr. Martin said the pens were exchanged "as a memento of an historic event."

"Thank you, I shall always treasure it," Mr. Butterworth said in accepting the pen used by Mr. Martin.

"The Columbia River Treaty now is in effect," Mr. Martin said.

The documents signed by Mr. Martin and Mr. Butterworth included the instruments of ratification, the protocol of exchange of instruments of ratification and notes authorizing the Canadian entitlement purchase agreement and confirming the coming into effect of the ratification documents.

Old Soldiers To Parade Before Their Princess Pat

EDMONTON (CP)—In a rare moment Saturday 10 old soldiers will parade before their "Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry."

The Princess, a crack Canadian airborne unit since 1947, were established in 1914 and bear the name of Princess Patricia of Connaught, daughter of the then Governor General of Canada.

The regiment was the first Canadian unit to see action in the first world war and has won many military decorations than any other Canadian unit.

The Princess, now Lady Patricia Ramsay, has been the regiment's only colonel-in-chief and no other member of the British Royal Family can claim to hold a similar honor as long or with a regiment named in their honor.

LAST APPEARANCE
The celebrations at Edmonton, the Princess' adopted home since 1957, were expected to be the last major public appearance for Lady Patricia.

Vatican Foresees New Links With Church And Red Lands

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Vatican officials look forward to further accords between the Roman Catholic Church and Communist governments.

The agreement announced Tuesday between the Vatican and Hungary was seen by sources here as a virtual breakthrough in relations between the church and Iron Curtain regimes.

Vatican authorities stressed that the agreement meant no lessening of church opposition to communism as a philosophy. But it was unmistakable evidence of the church's willingness to deal with Communist leaders to better the conditions of Catholics living in Communist-ruled lands.

IT'S AS FREE AS THE BREEZE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Fred Morrison is gambling on the belief that people will buy anything—and so far it seems to be working.

Mr. Morrison is in the canned air business. Not just any canned air, but "genuine Pacific Ocean air" from Vancouver.

"I don't really know how I got into the business, but people seem to buy anything these days," says the 36-year-old promoter.

One of the main selling points is that it just costs five cents to mail anywhere in the U.S. and Canada.

"It was just a lark to begin with, but now I'm thinking of making and selling Rocky Mountain and Prairie air."

Why we just open the canny windows and let the air flow into the cans?

Gunshop Raid Hearing Opens

MONTREAL (CP)—François Schum, a red-headed lawyer, was called in court Tuesday by Crown witnesses as the hearing about the shooting of a man in the street Aug. 29 Montreal gunshop building.

Constable Regis Fortin testified he fired two shots at Schum and helped capture the 22-year-old in an exchange of shots at a shed near the International Furriers Company.

He was testifying at the preliminary hearing of Schum's murder charge with capital murder in the shooting of Leslie MacWilliams, 36, independent of the gunshop.

Alfred Pashley, 37, another gunshop employee, was also named in the raid apparently by police bullets.

The others accused of capital murder in the killing are Schum, Gilles Bisset, 35, Cyrille Desile, 36, and Marcel Tardif, 22, all of the Montreal area.

Gunshop employee Peter Schum identified Schum as the man who held him and his companions at gunpoint while another man he said looked like Guelette fired the shot that killed Mr. MacWilliams.

Quebec "Mad" At Big Unions

QUEBEC (CP)—Quebec workers have "had enough" of unions with international affiliations, the general secretary of the Confederation of National Trade Unions said Tuesday.

Marcel Pepin told reporters at the week-long annual convention of the predominantly French-speaking organization that despite opposition from the Quebec Federation of Labor (CLC), the CNTU can increase its membership to 160,000 from the present 140,000 by 1965.

He added that it could pass the QFL in membership within a few years because of the low opinion he said Quebec workers now have of such internationally-affiliated groups.

INTERPRETING WORLD EVENTS

Film Star Treatment Accorded Bob Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Is it the star of the name, "Kennedy"? Is it curiosity to see in person the man about whom so much has been said, pro and con?

Is it sympathy for the brother of an assassinated president, making him the repository of all our grief and shock of last November?

Whatever the answer—and nobody could say with certainty—Robert F. Kennedy was a political star in northern New York state last week. Sweeping across predominantly Republican territory, the Democrat started waves of emotion, scenes of frenzy, an astonishing human storm.

Women were a red in his face with sympathy. They ran beside his car to grab and kiss his hand in Plattsburg, a man groped him around and neck and pounded his back, yelling "Bob! Bob!" He was showered with flowers, confetti and rice as the open convertible passed.

Three times, while standing in the car to shake hands, he was almost pulled over backwards. He was mauled, pummeled and crushed in the crowds.

This happened over and over again. Kennedy is campaigning for the seat in the U.S. Senate now held by Republican Kenneth Keating, who is seeking re-election Nov. 3. Last Tuesday, he began a three-day tour of northern New York. Some of the cities there are Democratic and some swing between the parties in elections. But Kennedy went into counties where the Republican bulge in registration is three and four-to-one.

Nobody knew what to expect. There was "carpetbagging" charge, based on the fact that Kennedy was born in Massachusetts and has been living in Virginia.

There was the fact that he did not declare for the Senate race until after President Johnson's brother's successor had called him out of the vice-presidential derby.

And there was the fact that the new limit on loans for farm improvements. But he said other legislation was needed to stop farmers in Quebec from leaving the land.

WARNS FARMERS
Alan Hamilton, former Conservative agriculture minister, also warned farmers not to look to the fund for machinery pooling to make a big change.

He saw the measure as an attack on the increasing costs of farming. But it was only a drop in the bucket. He hoped farmers would see the logic of sharing machinery to cut costs.

However, he said machines to be shared shouldn't include those used in planting crops or harvesting them. All the farmers in the pool would want to use them at the same time and friction could develop.

Today the Commons will consider the bill arising from the resolution. If it gets quick passage, yet another piece of farm legislation will be dealt with—this one setting up a crop insurance program to supplement existing provincial programs.

T. C. Douglas, the New Democratic Party leader, said the government wasn't coming to grips with the real problem, shrinking farm income. It was costing more and more to run farms but at the same time farmers were getting less and less for their products.

Howard Graffley (PC—Brome—Missisquoi) welcomed the new limit on loans for farm improvements. But he said other legislation was needed to stop farmers in Quebec from leaving the land.

Also approved was a government resolution to set up a $25,000 fund that would finance government loans to groups of farmers to purchase farm machinery. The loans would cover up to 80 per cent of the machinery costs.

Peach growers in the Okanagan Valley are having trouble disposing of their fruit. They are not even picking off the trees some have had to leave home place and some packing houses have thousands of boxes of peaches sitting in storage at this time.

NATO Brigade, Make Up, Use Explained To City Rotary Club

W. L. B. Hawker, principal of Dr. Knox senior secondary school told Rotarians Tuesday, Canadians taking part in NATO are very well thought of in European countries.

"Canada is certainly accepting her obligation, with a brigade in Germany and air divisions in France and squadrons there and in Germany," he said.

"Our Canadians are very highly thought of wherever they serve, not only by Europeans but by other groups taking part in NATO."

"The United States is more than accepting their obligations, not only with money but life also. In Germany I saw 13,000 crosses which testify to this," Mr. Hawker said.

He traced the history of NATO, the reasons why it was formed, the set-up of the organization, what they have accomplished and the problems still facing NATO today.

"A question facing Canada today is whether we can, or should, withdraw our brigade," he said. "Should Germany raise her own divisions, is another question."

"Maybe our forces are not required militarily, but they are politically. The Germans do not want us to withdraw. They are uneasy with the eastern frontier so close."

"If we should pull out what effect would it have on the East? Would Russia feel differently if one less country were taking part in NATO? These are problems of the immediate future," Mr. Hawker said.

Shows Forecast For Valley Today

A sharp transition between cloudy and clear skies is marked by an east-west line about 100 miles north of the international border said the Vancouver weather office today.

Temperature compared to that of a year ago is quite similar. This year's high-low for Tuesday was 63 and 50 with .02 of an inch of rain. Last year's high-low was 64 and 51 with .07 of an inch of rain.

Showers are expected throughout B.C. with moist air continuing into the province because of the east to west line moving southward.

Forecast for the Okanagan is sunny, cloudy over by noon. Showers are expected this afternoon and evening. Thursday's outlook is cloudy with a few showers in the afternoon.

Low tonight and high Thursday at Penticton 45 and 65.

Word Of Warning About Budgetary Surplus

Considerable satisfaction will be felt across Canada that after many years of struggling the national budget is not only balancing but is showing an appreciable surplus. The finance minister's latest figures indicate that the surplus for the first four months of the fiscal year — April through July — is $439,600,000, eight times larger than the surplus of $52,000,000 at this time a year ago. The reason is not to be found in holding the line on expenses, but on greatly increased revenues forthcoming from a booming economy.

Personal, corporation and sales taxes are all higher than anticipated, and the outlook for a continuation of this boost of the national revenues appears fairly good.

The finance minister's statement indeed prompted speculation that the Canadian dollar would be pegged higher than it is now, in relation to U.S. dollars. Such a move, however, is quite unlikely. Nor is there much of a chance the current duty-free limit for Canadian travellers will be increased.

These things are unlikely because, although the cash flow is good, the national debt is still mounting. From $18,037,200,000 at the end of August 1963 it has grown to $18,618,700,000 which more than swallows up the current budgetary surplus.

This point should be carefully stressed for all those politicians who see in the present prosperity an excuse for plunging the country into new social ventures based on the current excess of revenues over expenditures.

It will be something entirely new if the present boom manages to carry on indefinitely. Historically, or traditionally, there will be recessions and perhaps even depressions ahead. When these happen revenues may once again be lower than expenditures.

There is nothing pessimistic about these statements. They are merely issued as words of warning that when Medicare, pension and other social schemes are before the House of Commons, they should be made to stand on their own feet, and not on any hypothetical assumption that the high noon of 1964 finances can be maintained indefinitely.

Washington Billboards

The Poetic Carpenter has aroused general interest in billboards around the Okanagan, it is interesting to note that a major battle on the subject is taking place in the neighboring state of Washington.

A billboard law was passed by the Washington state legislature in 1961. It was part of a national effort to prevent the highways becoming alleys running a gauntlet of huge billboards that spoil the view. Now a campaign is under way to have the legislation wiped out. The effort in this regard comes from the billboard people and motels, hotels, restaurants, which want to catch the tourist's eyes.

The Wenatchee World says rather than repeal the legislation, it should be strengthened. The World points out that two classes of highways only are now affected. One is the Interstate 99 and Interstate 10 over the Snoqualmie Pass. The other class are designated scenic routes that should not be obscured. In North Central Washington the only areas on which billboards are restricted are Highway 10 from Vantage through the Columbia Basin, and Stevens and Blewett passes.

The World points out there is no comparison between driving along a highway on which all billboards are banned and driving along one where advertising signs are permitted. The entire approach to the beautiful Black Hills of Dakota has been ruined by the use of the most objectionable advertising signs.

The Washington Roadside Council, an organization dedicated to preserving scenic highways, points out that keeping billboards off not only preserves beauty, it also increases safety. It quotes an Ohio supreme court decision that says:

"We can take judicial notice of the fact that... getting in or off an interstate highway... usually involves some difficulty. A mistake in turn can cause a driver considerable inconvenience, annoyance, delay and even danger. Thus, at an interchange on an interstate highway, billboards can be a considerable cause of distraction, annoyance, inconvenience, and even danger to a driver."

The wording came in a decision by the Ohio court upholding the constitutionality of a billboard bylaw.

In a similar decision, the New Hampshire supreme court said: "With vehicles hurtling along at (high) speed... an instant inattention or confusion may be disastrous. We need not labor the point that anything beside the road which tends to distract or confuse the driver of a motor vehicle directly affects public safety. Signs of all sizes, shapes and colors designed expressly to divert the attention of the driver... may reasonably be found to increase the danger of accidents, and their regulation... falls clearly within the police power."

The Wenatchee paper comments: "Repeal the billboard law? We'd say the law ought to be strengthened. Instead of banning billboards just on an interstate and scenic routes, that ban should be extended to all primary and secondary highways of the state outside city limits."

The Saunterers

It is customary at this time of year to remind motorists that children are going back to school and the driving habits of the summer have to be changed. The school zones become important again; the danger of speeding or passing in them becomes acute, and not only that: excited and pre-occupied youngsters on their way to or from their first classes of the term are apt to appear from nowhere in unexpected places. It is a time for extreme caution.

Perhaps not very many drivers need such reminders. Parents—even fathers—will be fully aware that their offspring are off to school once more.

There is another side to the matter though that needs some attention.

We have no doubt that at school and at home, most children are warned and warned again of the need to be careful on the streets. In some young heads, however, the notion seems to grow—especially at the secondary level—that the pedestrian being supreme in law at crosswalks is supreme in every way. A few youngsters but not too many arrogantly saunter across the road as if traffic didn't exist.

The lesson this minority needs to learn, and that ought to be pressed home at this season, is that a frustrated and irritated driver is seldom as efficient as he might be. Consideration for others, by pedestrians and motorists alike, is a most important ingredient of safety.

Pete Ferguson, of the Courier staff, tried unsuccessfully to sell crisp new Canadian $2.00 bills on Bernard Ave. Some thought they were counterfeit, others that there was a catch somewhere. The only prospect that accepted the proposition found he hadn't enough change to make up a $1.00, and went away talking to himself.

Mysterious Memory Cells Slowly Give Up Secrets

CHICAGO (AP)—Your eyes scan written words, and nerve signals flash information to your brain.

Somewhere among your 10,000,000 brain cells the new knowledge is instantly assessed, and some at least is stored away.

Memory springs it forth again when you need or want it—sometimes, slowly.

But how, exactly, how?

Being in the study of his home one recent evening, Dr. George W. Beadle, Nobel Prize winner and president of the University of Chicago, tapped his head with his right forefinger.

"There is no more complex problem than what happens up here," he said.

"Probably the greatest challenge in science is to discover how the brain works, how it stores information, recalls it, and what consciousness is."

"It is what is in our minds that determines how we are going to behave."

"The tempo of change in our lives is increasing rapidly, bringing new knowledge, new experiences, and new problems. Can we speed up our learning, improve our methods, strengthen our mental capacities, broaden our understanding, find ways to correct mental ailments and deficiencies?

"What determines what we let into our minds? Or what we kick out?"

"We've scarcely made a beginning yet toward understanding these things. But there are some fascinating clues and theories."

Dr. Beadle put a match to his dying cigar.

"The answers, in fact, may turn out to be rather simple."

In the biological sciences, one great limiting factor is a feeling that life and living systems are very complex and so it must be terribly difficult to understand them. There is resistance against simple ideas—they're even considered simplistic.

"But nature, we are learning, operates with fundamental or simple rules and methods—the task is to discover them."

Dr. Beadle reached back in memory for an illustration.

In 1921, he was a college student from Wahoo, Neb., planning to specialize in scientific training. To help make capenses, he jumped at the offer of 30 cents an hour to assist a professor in an experiment with hybrid wheat.

On lunch hours, the nearest thing at hand to read was a book on genetics, the still-young science of heredity. The tall young man read with growing fascination, and decided to become a biologist and geneticist.

The book "described nice, clear-cut rules about how chromosomes and genes determine inherited characteristics. The challenge was that no one knew how genes functioned, or what they were."

Pursuit of this question brought Dr. Beadle and Dr. Edward Tatum a Nobel Prize in 1958 for having shown that a single gene controls a single enzyme, or chemical governor, in a cell. Enzymes play a major role in the machinery of cell life.

"Our work—though we didn't know it at the time—was really a rediscovery of what (Sir Archibald) Garrod had suggested way back in 1906. But few geneticists then paid much attention—they said it was too simple an idea."

Now, in a great burst of progress, scientists are fairly certain they are well on the way to discovering the key to the genetic code of life itself.

Full understanding of the code could lead to methods of controlling it for human benefit, for example by suppressing or circumventing the effects of genes that are harmful or which cause defects.

A main spearhead in progress now is molecular biology—delving deeper and deeper into the units and subunits and molecules that are engaged in or which govern life processes.

Asian Immigrants Barred By Aussies

BOMBAY (UPI)—Aspiring immigrants to Australia from several Asian countries are discouraged over reports that the Australian government is tightening up its immigration policy.

Particularly worried are people of European parentage who have lived for several generations in India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaysia and other countries.

Asian newspapers have reported that the Australian government now is averse to taking in people who are not predominantly European. They say that while this has been the policy all along, of late there has been a quiet tightening up of measures to exclude people even with a very negligible percentage of non-European blood.

Highly critical comments have greeted the Australian government's rejection of the immigration application of a Ceylonese family of burghers on the ground that they are not "substantially of European origin." The burghers are descendants of 16th century Dutch and Portuguese colonists.

Anglo-Indians, Anglo-Pakistanis and Anglo-Burmans now are afraid that Australia may finally close her doors to them. For some years after the war Australia granted immigration permits to those among these mixed communities who had—as the Times of India put it—"a markedly clear white complexion."

Some Anglo-Indians who went to Australia on temporary entry permits have returned to India with adverse reports of race relations there.

Asian newspapers have been giving prominence to disclosures made by the Immigration Reform Group, a non-official organization of Australian liberals, about Australia's pro-white bias in immigration matters.

In an editorial, The Times of India quoted the group as saying in a statement that Australian immigration officials were excluding even Italians and Greeks who are of a "fairly" complexion.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Prevention Plan Against Blemishes

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Second of Two Articles
Yesterday we discussed pimples, blackheads and acne and what causes them.

Today let's see what we can do to prevent these blemishes.

First, if we can prevent the tiny skin glands from becoming plugged, we have the battle won.

How to do it? Washing! But it must be done properly. Soap and water, and the use of a soft brush (NOT a harsh one which will irritate the skin) to be followed by copious rinsing with fresh running water.

Since much of the trouble results from infection after the gland has become plugged, this must be suppressed. Antiseptic detergent skin cleaners may be used to reduce bacterial activity on the skin's surface. Tincture of green soap is sometimes used but its alcohol content may dry the skin too much. There are gentler detergents—penicillins, phisoderm and others.

Occasionally external medication may be used, lotions containing sulfur and other drugs to soften the skin. It is best to leave this problem to your doctor because some skins are tender and may be unduly irritated.

Occasionally when infection is severe and will not yield to these measures, brief courses of antibiotics may be given internally to control the germ activity.

In certain cases, dermatologists use X-ray, but not all cases are suitable or would benefit from it.

Again, substantial doses of ascorbic acid (Vitamin C) and sometimes Vitamin A have been known to help but you can't rely on them alone. Indeed, sometimes they may not help.

Anxiety and frustration can be a factor in some young people.

ple, the emotional tensions increasing the oil gland activity.

Scratching and punching the skin can do nothing but harm, causing scarring and putting afterward. For that reason I do not recommend squeezing blackheads. However, drug stores carry blackhead expressors, simple little instruments with which one can be pressed out without damaging the skin.

It is poor solace, I suppose, to remind acne sufferers that it usually subsides as they pass the teen years. However, in some cases it continues into young adult life.

In any case, it is important to avoid treatment which will cause scarring afterward. True, some of the roughness later can be removed by a dermatologist or plastic surgeon by "skin-planing," but this cannot overcome deep pitting.

Dear Dr. Molner, When can one find a good dermatologist or skin specialist who does dermabrasion on scarred skin?—MRS. AND MRS. G.H.

If your regular family physician can't answer that for you, she usually can, however, it is very simple to write or telephone your county medical society and ask for the names of two or three reliable ones.

Almost all county medical societies do this as a public service. It is an excellent means of protecting people from swindlers and quacks. The societies vouch for the physicians whose names they give you.

Accident Survey Shows Danger Later On In Day

VERNON (Staff) — What is road, this is the worst time of the day to travel. For the time sequence of 30 days, the survey showed that the worst time of day to travel is from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. In that period, 67 accidents occurred, or one per cent of all accidents. From 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., nine per cent of all accidents occurred. The figures indicate that car drivers are much more tired when returning from work and aren't as alert as when they leave for the office in the morning.

In the city, only three per cent of all accidents occur from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. It is when six per cent of the mishaps take place.

On the open highway, the contrast is even more startling. From 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., only one per cent of the accidents occur but the 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. period accounts for 11 per cent. On the open

Value Of Building Permits Show Overall Gain So Far

VERNON (Staff) — Value of building permits was down for August this year but the total for the year just fell short of the $1,500,000 mark.

The permit values were $23,900 for August this year, compared to $37,832 last year. The total to date is $1,459,649 as to $1,109,499 for the first eight months of 1963.

Four residential permits accounted for over half the value of the 12 permits issued, $16,400. One, one-family dwelling permit was worth $12,000 and three permits for dwelling additions and alterations were worth $1,400.

There were two permits for commercial additions and alterations, worth $5,500. The remaining $2,900 worth of permits came in two new private garages, two signs, one observatory and one demolition.

In residential, there were no water connections or septic or storm sewer installations in August. A year ago, four connections were made in this classification.

One storm sewer was connected under the commercial class. To date, more building, electrical, plumbing and moving permits have been issued than for the corresponding period in 1963.

PETER'S PATTERN

with PETER MUNOZ

It seems a common phenomenon in pro sport that there is a club-as opportunity of opportunity—who make the key late season moves that have a decided bearing on the outcome of championships. A case in point is last week's deal bringing right-hander Pedro Martinez from Cleveland's "go south" Indians to the New York Yankees, now based in mortal combat with Baltimore and Chicago for the American League flag. Martinez, a good pitcher, was having a poor season with the Indians... until he joined the Yankees.

Another club, a different game... Toronto Maple Leafs are just masters of the type of winning and losing. They've pulled some heads in recent years but I don't think any hope their season late last season... The deal that brought them Andy Bathgate and Lou McKenney from New York Rangers was a late move... It virtually assured them the Stanley Cup... and as things developed, it made a whole of a difference in their success... Also established them as the team to beat this season.

Back to the diamond... Yankees have pulled off some dashes of their own in previous years... They have picked up many a veteran or established star at the opportune time and played a supposed weak link in an almost invisible machine.

They almost had a shuttle service between Kansas City and New York not too many years ago... Players were moving back and forth almost constantly... Perhaps not too far from the truth, was the joke that KC was a farm team of the perennial world champions... A place where the untalented could get just that final finishing touch, against major league competition—before becoming a cog in the Yankee wheel.

Roger Maris is a good example... The best and perhaps only major leaguer on the Athletics' roster at the time, was groomed and picked when ready, by the power hungry New York Yankees... In other years they've picked onto good veterans who have come up with amazing performances during the stretch drive or in the world series itself... Follows like Johnny Mize, Johnny Damon and now Maris.

There is nothing wrong with the practice except the timing... There should be a definite limit to these deals after a certain date preferably the halfway mark of the season... Up to that point these out-of-the-running clubs might not be as conducive to swapping off the good talent... While there is still a possibility it might hurt them... Until such time you can't expect these "have" clubs like Yankees and Maple Leafs to not take advantage of the situation.

Closer to home... Richard Robinson, young netminder with last year's junior Bantams will be attending the University of Alberta this year... He'll be doing his goaltending under the tutelage of Al Hollins, former NHLer... Two other former Bucs, Fred Thomas and Phil Larden are reported lining up with Williams Lake intermediates again this year.

Ex - Bruin Great Bobby Bauer Dies

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Bobby Bauer, 49, former National Hockey League star with Boston Bruins, died in hospital today of a heart attack.

The right winger of Boston's high-scoring Kitchener line of the 1930s was believed to have entered hospital during a weekend with a heart condition.

Brother of Rev. David Bauer, coach of Canada's Olympic hockey team, he coached Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, who represented Canada in the 1954 and 1960 games.

Teamed with Milt Schmidt, now coach of the Bruins, at centre and Woody Dumart at left wing, Bauer played for two Stanley Cup championship teams in 1939 and 1941. The following year the entire line joined the ICAHL and won the Allan Cup with Ottawa Flyers before proceeding overseas.

Born in Waterloo, Ont., Bauer joined the Bruins in 1936, to go with his linemates, and retired in 1946 with a record of 111 goals and 126 assists in NHL play.

Callison's Decisive Heroics Lead Phils Closer To Paydirt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Winning ball games is getting to be a habit with John Callison. The Philadelphia Phillies outfielder whose ninth inning homer won the All-Star game for the National League in July, delivered the decisive blow against Tuesday night.

His sixth inning single scored Richie Allen from second base with the run that gave the Phils a 1-0 victory over Houston Colt.

The Phils now lead second place St. Louis Cardinals by six games with 17 left to play.

The Cards whipped Milwaukee Braves in both ends of a two-night doubleheader, 11-6 and 3-1. Third place San Francisco Giants beat New York Mets 3-1 while Chicago Cubs dimmed Cincinnati Reds' hopes 6-1.

HAMILTON (CP) — Larry Robinson of Calgary Stampeders and Don Sutherland of Hamilton Tiger-Cats have much in common. Both are place kick specialists who are leading the Western and Eastern Football Conferences respectively in points scored.

But Sutherland's talents deserted him Tuesday night and the result was a 20-18 victory for the Stampeders over Hamilton before more than 25,000 Tiger-Cats fans and the Calgary Stampeders into first place in the WFC standings.

The Hamilton loss enabled them to maintain a second-place tie in the east with Montreal Alouettes, each with six points—three behind the league-leading Ottawa Rough Riders.

Robinson brought his points total to 56 with two conversions and two field goals. The second field goal came in the fourth quarter overtime in a 16-11 defeat in a Canadian Football League interlocking game.

Sutherland regained the scoring leadership in the EFC with 41 points as he kicked four singles and two conversions. But three of the singles were meant to be field goals.

Calgary halfback Lovell Coleman was another major factor in the Calgary attack. The Stampeders halfback galloped 85 yards for one touchdown and ran another 50 yards to set up a two-yard touchdown by quarterback Eagle Day.

Coleman gained a total of 238 yards rushing to better the old WFC mark of 224 yards set earlier this season by Ed Buchanan of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

The CFL record of 287 yards is held by Ron Stewart of Ottawa and two field goals. The second Eight percent age points blanket the three American League pennant contenders to day and it's more than a Chance happening.

A good part of the credit, of course, belongs to Dean Chance, Los Angeles Angels' marvelous right-hander whose two-hit 7-0 mastery of New York Yankees night helped send the Yankees reeling into third place.

But Rich Rollins, who drove in both runs in Minnesota Twins 2-1 case call over Baltimore that prevented the Orioles from leading their lead, rates a nod 50-50 Smoky Burgess, a 31-year-old "rookie" and Mary Stacie, a first-time swinger, who lifted Chicago White Sox back into second place by engineering a 3-2, 10-inning victory over Detroit Tigers.

Boston rookie Ed Connolly fired a two-hitter against Kansas City Athletics and the Red Sox cracked 14 hits for an 8-0 victory in the only other game played. The Washington-Cleveland game was rained out.

New National Curling Title

MONTREAL—A new national Canadian curling championship for senior players 55 years of age and over was announced today in a joint statement by R. A. Skinner, president of the Dominion Curling Association and Charles R. Bronfman, president of the House of Seagram.

To be known as "The National Seniors' Curling Championship for the Seagram Stone," the new competition will be open to players who are 55 years of age or over by January 1 of each competitive year. Rinks from each province, with two from Ontario, will compete in the national final.

Competition will be for the Seagram Stone, a suitably mounted silver replica of a curling stone, reported to be the first national bilingual trophy in the history of Canadian curling.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Track and field athletes broke two world records equaled at their matched a U.S. mark, bettered the Olympic record in nine events and stamped the United States the team to beat in Tokyo.

These were some of the highlights of the two-day final trials which ended Sunday in Memorial Coliseum before a crowd of 16,000.

Bob Cawley bettered the world mark in the 400 metres with 49.1, and Saturday Ralph Boston broke the noted record of 27 feet 4.5 inches by Russia's Igor Ter-Ovanesyan with a leap of 27 feet 4.4 inches.

Sprinter Bob Hayes equaled the U.S. 100-metre mark at 10.1, and Mike Larabee, a California school teacher, matched the world standard of 44.9 in the 400 metres.

Gerry Lindgren of Spokane, Wash., punned the 10,000 metres for only the third time in his life, turned in the fastest time by an American this year, 29:42.9.

The 1,500-metre battle was won by Dwyll Harrison of Oregon in 3:41.2 as he defeated Tom O'Hara of Chicago for the ninth time in their head-to-head series.

Jim Ryan, at 11, the youngest athlete in the trials, led off the first mile in third spot in the 1,500 metres but both were timed in 3:41.9.

The 5,000-metre grand ended in a pre-arranged dead heat between the favored Bob Schul and Bill DeLongue who ended a four-year retirement this year to aim for the Olympic team.

The time was 13:55.6.

Of the 69 athletes named for the 19 Olympic trials, including two relay team members, not one made the toll in more than one event.

Only the long Olympic records bettered were in 100, 200 and 400-metre dashes, the 400-metre hurdles, shot, discus and hammer, pole vault and broad jump.

The bidding:
East	South	West	North
1NT	DBL	2♣	3♣
Pass	2NT

The declarer can generally falsify much more effectively than a defender, since his partner cannot be misled by anything he does, but there are times when a defender can adopt deceptive tactics with almost cost to his side.

Here is such a case. South became declarer at three notrump after East had opened the bidding with a weak notrump. West led a spade and South took the ten with the queen.

There was not much hope of making the contract without establishing the diamond suit. South led the ten of diamonds at trick two and finessed. East declared that this was a good time to falsify, and he went back to the ten with the king. East was trying to persuade declarer that West had the jack.

East returned a spade to the king, and South, in order to get back to his hand to repeat the successful ♣ diamond finesse, played a low club from dummy and finessed the jack which declarer held.

Declarer then played another diamond, but when West showed out, the hand suddenly collapsed. East won the diamond with the jack and returned it to king of clubs to force out the ace, and South found that he could not possibly make more than eight tricks. As a result, he wound up gung down on a losing three diamonds and two clubs.

Of course, South could have made the contract had he not been lulled into a false sense of security by East's false card. He could have led a diamond from dummy with complete safety after winning trick three with the king of spades, and this play would have made the hand for him. No defence could then have stopped three notrump.

Probably South should have fallen into the trap of East's false card. This means that it is a good idea to always point up a factor in play that is insufficiently stressed, namely, that skill in card play includes giving the opponents a maximum opportunity of making a mistake.

You may see fit to revise some of your plans now and, if others object, you can win their cooperation more through gentle persuasion than by firm insistence on your own way. The evening hours will be excellent for social functions and group activities generally.

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the next year should provide you with many occupational challenges. Your unusual insight into matters which affect your future should goad you into trying your best. Avoid, however, the Virginian's tendency to be hypocritical with associates.

which so often alienates them in a position to help you. Otherwise you might miss out on good opportunities which are for the cooperation of others. If you are engaged in scientific or inventive work, this will be especially important in December and in April of 1965.

You may experience some anxiety in financial matters in October and/or next April, a little, and you are thinking on your feet should help to avoid unimportant problems; eventually when you consider this coming November and the period between mid-December and late March (also next April and September) will be excellent where monetary affairs are concerned. In inter-vening cycles, just cut your cloth to the pattern.

STRAIGHT CHLORINE HAS SCOTCH SHOT

INVERNESS (Reuters) — The water supply of Inverness, main city of the Scottish Highlands, is so bad it "contaminates the whisky," town clerk James Cameron told the local health committee Monday night.

The water tasted like chlorinated water in swim pools, he said.

The town's medical officer of health, explained the odd taste was due to work being carried out in the reservoir and that the water was "bacteriologically correct." The situation was "temporary."

World Communism Schism Results In Indian Street Fights

BOMBAY (CP) — While Peking and Moscow intensify their rivalry, their followers in India are literally fighting it out in the streets.

Home Minister Gulzarilal Nanda has urged provincial administrations to beware of serious trouble between the Peking and Moscow factions in the Communist party of India.

News reports say provincial governments have sent fresh police reinforcements to towns where factional fighting in the party now has taken the form of violent street brawls.

The most serious of the incidents have taken place in the big south Indian town of Vijayawada, unofficial headquarters of the party's left (pro-Peking) faction.

Some 3,000 houses belonging to members of the pro-Moscow faction have been burned down. About 15,000 persons are homeless. Chief Minister Brahmananda Reddy of the Andhra state government has said that it is a case of arson and charged the left faction with setting fire to the houses of their ideological enemies.

The fires were preceded by threats in Janta Shakti, the pro-Peking Communist newspaper, that "Khrushchev's stooges" should take care of their belongings.

Visalandra, mouthpiece of the pro-Moscow faction in Vijayawada, also spoke of "retribution against Mao's hirelings."

Police said it appeared that followers of both the factions are involved in the arson.

Chief Minister Reddy said the bulk of the sufferers are innocent citizens who do not know anything about the Peking-Moscow struggle and care nothing about the controversy between the two Communist countries.

Nine Vijayawada Communists have been charged with arson and rioting. They include Tammara Pottharaju, a member of the Andhra state legislature.

Some 1,500 miles north of Vijayawada, Communists in Lucknow fought in the streets trying to take possession of the local party bookshop.

Postmaster General Rejects Bid For Oyama Post Office

WINFIELD — At a recent meeting of the Winfield, Oyoama, and Osoyoos Central Chamber of Commerce, members were told that the bid for the Oyama post office was rejected.

A letter was read from the Postmaster-General which said with the appointment of a new postmaster and the reorganizing of the office, because of a limited amount of work and revenue, it was the responsibility of the local postmaster to provide quarters.

A. Bluet, chairman of the tourist committee, said 10,000 copies of the brochure and map of the area had been distributed throughout western Canada and the United States.

TOURIST BOOTH BUSY

The committee also reported a number of persons used the Winfield tourist booth, during this, its first year of operation. William Pilling was given a vote of thanks for his work in the collection.

A request from the district postmaster in Vernon for a possible future appointment of a post office in the area was turned over to the appropriate authorities.

The development is to be covered by the next 25 year period.

The secretary was asked to contact the Department of Highways about the unsatisfactory conditions created by overnight camps along the highway. A complaint was received at the Winfield office, the Oyoama branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

The meeting decided to ask the Department of Highways to extend the road past Carle's landing to join up with Highway 1. This would make an access road to the park from the south. At present it is necessary to go as far north as Vernon to get to the park.

Tax Prepayments, Licences Show Increase Over 1963

The city of Kelowna shows a sharp increase in tax prepayments and fees for licences issued this year, over 1963.

City comptroller Doug Herbert reported to city council that current tax prepayments, including the provincial home owner grant, totalled $595,483 to August 31st, compared to $581,271 for the same period in 1963, an increase of more than $14,000.

The report said 1,662 trade licences have been issued at a total cost of $52,539, compared to 1,912 licences in 1963, with fees totalling $50,577.

Municipal commercial vehicle licences have brought in $17,494 compared to $15,805 in the same period last year.

The only tax showing a drop this year was dog taxes (mills). This year, 625 licences were issued for fees of $3,195. In 1963, 631 licences had been issued for a total of $3,340.

Private dog taxes have brought in $305 this year, with 31 being issued. Last year, 28 female licences had been issued for fees totalling $290.

The report said $2,895 has been paid in fees for bicycle licences so far this year. No bicycle tax was collected in 1963.

Food Crisis Hits India And Thousands in Danger

BAGHOLA, India (AP) — Chatter Singh thought for a moment that in a move heavily with worry, he delivered his opinion. It's the worst in my mind, he said. We have had starvation. Two meals now are one.

The 10-year-old village dweller said the food crisis sweeping India.

Chatter Singh and millions of other Indians are trapped by a deadly combination of bad weather, government mismanagement, and greedy grain dealers and the basic problem — a population explosion that outstrips the country's food supply.

The United States and people in India, who are poor, are expected to spend $200,000,000 on grain shipments to India in 1964. The United States has helped ward off the food crisis for years.

Children get first preference. Pregnant women are next, work men follow. Grandparents get what is left, if anything.

Chatter Singh said his people would eat any of their things when cows and buffaloes that range across the country are stripping it of everything green. They would even eat eggs to gain much needed protein.

God would be very angry, he said. I would rather die than eat an egg.

At Baghola, the village of Chatter Singh, the United States and the government have been no vegetables, this or better, the mainstay of their diet for a long time.

Many families in Baghola are expected to spend $200,000,000 on grain shipments to India in 1964. The United States has helped ward off the food crisis for years.

ANN LANDERS

Natural Childbirth Eliminates Fear

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to say a word about a young woman who was terrified at the prospect of having a child because she could not stand the pain.

Before I was married I was a nurse, and I know why. My mother and my aunt, who were nurses, were in my presence when I was a child. I was a very shy child, and I was a very shy child, and I was a very shy child.

A physician whom I will call Dr. D. changed my life. I married at the age of 22 and had my first child at 25. I was a very shy child, and I was a very shy child, and I was a very shy child.

I thought the abdominal thrusting and straining was a course of exercises which would help me to give natural birth. I had four children in seven years.

The women who suffer are the ones who are frightened. Most of the fright comes from having heard horrible tales from other women, who were also frightened.

I hope you will print this letter, and let millions of people know that childbirth should be the most rewarding and satisfying experience in woman's life.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

Dear Voice: Dozens of women wrote in praise of natural childbirth. Your letter was one of the best and I hope it will help other women escape the bondage of fear.

Dear Ann Landers: Is it normal for people who have been married 16 years to run out of conversation? My husband never was a live wire, but at least he was alive.

I saw this coming five years ago and tried to interest him in dancing lessons, bowling, cards, and new friends. He told me to please leave him alone, that he was satisfied with things as they were.

We have three active children — two teenagers and a boy seven years. They are beginning to notice their father is a stick-in-the-mud. My husband's job is strenuous and demanding and he needs his rest, but there should be more to life than work and television.

I'm afraid I'm turning into a nag. Ann but what can I do — accept things as they are and count my blessings? —OUT OF THINGS TO SAY

Maple Leaves On Food Bags Mark Of Canadian U.K. Drive

LONDON (CP) — Most visitors to Britain's food fair this year are carrying home their free samples in bright yellow shopping bags bearing both red maple leaves.

The bags, together with an expensive advertising campaign on London's bus and subway system, are part of a massive effort on the British palate by 11 Canadian food firms exhibiting at the fair.

The fair, Canadian Food Fair, is an attractive but tame affair. The exhibitors have made a calculated appeal to the notorious British sweet tooth with lavish displays of fruit cake, honey, jam, frozen peas, maple syrup and a chocolate bar.

Food, part of the Canadian display is an eight-foot model of the famous 22-foot-tall "maple leaf" of Perith. Outriggered in Britain in 1882 and later set up and sold.

Appetizing the crowds are a variety of food samples. A fruit cake made from an original 18th-century recipe, made by Henry VIII, is being sold for 10 pence. To tempt British visitors further, Canada's maple and honey have been displayed, which is a good thing for the exhibitors, who are not 20 miles from the border.

Prices have soared. In New York, some foods sold for three or four times the prices of a few months ago. Sugar, often sold in bulk, is now sold in small quantities. The price of a pound of sugar is now 10 pence. The price of a pound of sugar is now 10 pence.
